

Ph.D Day
CHJ – Instituut voor Rechtsgeschiedenis – CRHiDI
Brussels, March 27th 2015
Venue: 3200 (Marais, 119, 3rd floor)

12h00 – Welcome

12h30 – Lunch

14h00 – Amélie Verfaillie. Lobbying on behalf of the Civil Society: Amnesty International's relationship with the United Nations (1961-present).

14h15 – Marc Thérage. Decline and modernization of business criminal law in the north of France : the Liberal paradigm advent (from the end of Middle Ages to the eve of World War II).

14h30 – Quentin Verreycken. Justice, Warfare, and the Rise of a State Discipline in the Fifteenth Century: Studying Military Pardons in International Perspective.

14h45 – Caroline Laske. Consideration - the origins of the term and concept.

15h00 – Sophie Leclère. Christian ideals and the Making of the Law during the Carolingian Era ; the case of sexual deviances.

15h30 – Coffee break

16h00 – Sonia Bai. Justice in Algeria : the example of the Algiers Court of Appeal (1842-1962).

16h15 – Pascaline le Polain. A biographical approach of the belgian colonial magistracy : Antoine Sohier and the shaping of colonial legal science

16h30 – Mustapha El Karouni. The importance of legal culture in the science of law.

Participants :

CHJ – Lille 2 : Serge Dauchy, Sonia Bai and Marc Thérage ;

Instituut voor Rechtsgeschiedenis – UGent: Dirk Heirbaut, Mustapha El Karouni, Caroline Laske, and Amélie Verfaillie ;

CRHiDI – USL-B : Nathalie Tousignant, Sophie Leclère, Pascaline le Polain and Quentin Verreycken ;